

I do not believe the FCC should implement any proposal which changes current Indiana telephone privacy laws. My wife and I have appreciated the benefits we have received under this law, and the number of nightly interruptions we experience has dropped dramatically since the law was enacted.

Sincerely,

Larry J. Brackney